

WAY CLEARED FOR POSTAL BANK BILL

Rule Brought in Limiting Debate
To Eight Hours and Cutting Off Amendments.

WILL BE TAKEN UP TOMORROW

Rep. Fitzgerald denounced the "insurgents," charging them with insincerity.

Washington, June 7.—With the Democrats attacking the Republicans, denouncing the "insurgents" for alleged insincerity and assailing the "regulars" for bringing in "tag rule" to further a party measure, and the Republican party retorting by charging the Democrats with similar performance, when they were in power, a special rule was adopted in the house today which placed the postal savings bank bill on its way to final passage with the debate limited to eight hours and all possibility of amendment cut off.

The rule was brought in by Representative Dabell, chairman of the committee, immediately after the bill had been sent to conference. The debate on the conference report was limited to one hour and each side was given its full share by heaving verbiage at the other.

The 10 insurgents voting against the bill were Carey, Cooper, Nelson and Leonard of Wisconsin; Grinnon of New York; Hubbard of Iowa; North of Nebraska; and Pinchot of Pennsylvania.

The rule provided for the immediate consideration of the bill, the limiting of the debate to eight hours, the prohibition of all amendments and the adoption of a motion to reconsider.

The denunciation of the "insurgents" was particularly vigorous on the part of Representative Fitzgerald of New York, who charged them with insincerity in regard to reform of the house rules.

And Democratic applause he cried: "It seems now that the real protest of the insurgents was against tag rule in their caucus, and having obtained their victory there, they are peremptorily willing to apply tag rule in this house."

Representative Clark, the minority leader, also vigorously attacked the special rule.

Representative Dabell defended the rule. He explained that the pending bill was a Republican measure, that had been carefully considered in a caucus where there was free and full expression of opinion and ample opportunity to amend.

It was not deemed proper to subject it to Democratic amendment. The Democrats, he said, under its terms, were given an opportunity to offer a Democratic postal savings bank bill as a substitute.

Representative Boutwell of Illinois replied to the Democratic criticism of the Republican measure by reminding the minority of the tactics they had employed in passing the Wilson tariff bill in 1904.

"You," he said, waving his hands toward the minority side, "you came in here dragging 600 amendments to the tariff bill, and proceeded to pass them all in two hours without even reading a single amendment."

The bill will be taken up at 11 o'clock a.m. Thursday, in order that the house may vote on the measure at 6 o'clock on the evening of that day.

PRIVATE BLEDSER TURNED OVER TO SEATTLE POLICE

Seattle, Wash., June 7.—Private North, alias Bledser of company D, Twenty-fourth United States Infantry, was turned over to the Seattle police today by the commander of Fort Lawton, Lieut. Col. S. W. Miller, after having been identified as the man who forced his way into the home of Mrs. J. W. Redding and ill-treated her Saturday night. Bledser is now locked up in the city jail awaiting trial.

The seven negro soldiers who were arrested from the post Saturday night were marched under heavy guard today to the home of Mrs. Redding. She at once picked out Bledser from the seven as her assailant, as did her daughter, Ethel, 11 years old. Privates Ford and Thomas, who were among the men closest from the post Saturday night, are still in their guardhouse and it is officially stated that their offense is purely military. It is believed they gave false testimony regarding Bledser's whereabouts on Saturday night.

THREE OLD ALUMNI OF NORTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY

Chicago, June 8.—Honor was paid yesterday to three elderly members of the Alumni of Northwestern University at the annual beginning day of commencement week.

Edward Spencer, who as a student, on the night of Sept. 7, 1869, at the wreck of the steamer Lady Elgin, in Lake Michigan, saved 17 lives, was present for the first time in many years and received an ovation.

Mr. Spencer lives in Los Angeles and came to see his nephew, William A. Spencer, graduated.

Other members of the alumni who were given unusual honors were Col. Homer A. Plimpton, Riverside, Cal., and Brig.-Gen. William A. Lord of Seattle, Wash., of the class of '60, who were present to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of their graduation.

SIMPLICITY TO MARK CHICAGO UNIVERSITY HOP

Chicago, June 8.—University of Chicago students will show their preference for simplicity next Friday evening, when they attend the annual interclass hop. The dance committee has decided to taboo all unnecessary incidentals. The interclass hop, which will take the place of the annual junior promenade this year, will establish a new standard at the university, as the former "proms" have called for flowers, carriages and an elaborate supper at midnight. This year the refreshments will be served from class booths in the gymnasium and the guests are requested to use the street cars or walk. The dance will be given under the management of all four classes of the university.

PROF. OSCAR BOLZA.

Made Non-Resident Professor of Chicago University With Pay for Life.

Chicago, June 8.—Prof. Oscar Bolza of the mathematical department of the University of Chicago, was the recipient yesterday of an unprecedented honor yesterday from university board of trustees. Prof. Bolza was made the first non-resident professor and was granted permission to spend the rest of his life in Freiburg, Germany. He will draw the same salary he received when active. After being connected with the university since its foundation 18 years ago, Prof. Bolza made known to the trustees that he desired to retire as a professor and devote his time to study in Germany.

Prof. Bolza is one of the leading mathematicians of the country.

PINCHOT OPPOSES PRESIDENT TAFT

Arrives in Washington to Make
Fight on Administration
Conservation Bill.

CLASH WITH SENATOR SMOOT

Wanted to Forbid Exploration of Withdrawal Lands Under the Mining Laws.

Washington, June 7.—Former Forester Clifford Pinchot arrived here today for the avowed purpose of exerting his influence against the passage by the senate of the administrative conservation bill.

In an interview with Senator Smoot, in charge of the measure, Pinchot sought the adoption of an amendment striking out the provision that would permit of the exploration and purchase of withdrawal lands under the mining laws.

It is said there was a sharp clash upon this subject between Senator Smoot and Mr. Pinchot, who had been fast friends for many years.

In his statement to Mr. Smoot, Mr. Pinchot declared that the language of the bill would permit filing a mining claim upon a power site, and the government could not dislodge the claimant.

Mr. Smoot replied that even a mining claim would not be allowed without investigation, and that it would be necessary for the claimant to prove that the tract filed upon contained valuable mineral.

It is expected that Senator Deliver, to whom Mr. Pinchot addressed the letter that resulted in his dismissal from the government service, will be the former forester's champion in the move to compel the adoption of an amendment to the bill.

Mr. Deliver, on the senate floor today, upheld Mr. Pinchot's assertions.
